All submissions are read by a qualified member of The Literary Group International's staff and a decision made on whether or not to ask for more material. If more is requested, it is read and a decision made on whether or not to offer the author an agency contract to represent the work. If the decision is positive, the author will be contacted, then sent copies of the agency agreement to sign and return. Due to the enormous volume of materials received, The Literary Group International will only respond to those authors whose work we intend to pursue.
